

Today in International Business News...

As future business leaders, part of your job will be to stay up-to-date on current news related to your industry. Your group will be tasked with summarizing a current issue/story related to International Business to the class. The article you choose must be from the day before your assigned date. You must get this approved by Ms. Osmond or Mr. Parsons the day before.

Two other groups will engage in a popcorn debate in front of the class related to your issue/story. You can send them the article the night before to help them prepare.

Step 1: Find an article and prepare to summarize the issue/story for the class.

Step 2: Develop a thought-provoking, and open ended statement related to your topic that does not have an easy answer.

Step 3: The two groups assigned to your story will engage in a popcorn debate arguing both extreme sides of your statement.

Step 4: Engage the entire class in a '4 corners' – strongly agree, slightly agree, strongly disagree, slightly disagree - based on their opinion to the statement and arguments introduced in the popcorn debate.
